

Week Three (April 20 - April 26)

Living through COVID-19

Day: 4/20/2020

I spend most of my time watching Korean Drama. In other words, I didn't do anything. But, I started to do my homework around 10 PM, and I plan to finish my history draft. I was happy for most of the day since I was enjoying my time. I didn't feel like reasearching anything about COVID-19.

Day: 4/21/2020

I went for a walk in the morning to get some air. I felt more relax since most of my homework was done. I saw that Minnesota now have 2,567 cases and 160 deaths. I keep seeing the number increase because people are protesting without covering their face. The United States cases also keep increasing, we have 824,698 cases, which seems like we increase every day by 28,000 cases. The deaths are 45,297, and it increased by 2,737. I still see the same amount of cases and death increasing every day. I am starting to see that we might take a year to be done with COVID-19. I don't understand why people want to go back to their normal lives, when cases and deaths are increasing. I understand that people need money, but that's the government fault. The government should be paying for their rent and I am just mad that the government doesn't do anything to support the poor. The poor need more than $1,200 to support their needs.

m) <https://www.msnbc.com/11th-hour/watch/tomb-tank-teaching-u-s-as-cdc-warns-of-a-second-worse-coronavirus-wave-82376261593>.

Day: 4/22/2020

I woke up to do my homework. I also had a few meetings. I still feel kinda bored from this situation. I just saw that there is a new warning that CDC warns 2nd, stronger wave of Covid-19 could hit US. It's a thing that worries me because we don't know how many people can die. For the rest of the day, I did my homework.

Lian) <https://news.yahoo.com/contamination-cdc-lab-reportedly-led-182848023.html>.

Day: 4/23/2020

I woke up and went for a walk. I spend most of my time outside because I didn't have homework. I finished most of my homework on Tuesday. I felt relaxed since I was outside, it help me to calm down and be happier. I just don't like the news, so I try to avoid it but it's impossible. I saw that California endures 'deadliest day' yet due to coronavirus, Gov. Gavin Newsom says. People keep being outside protesting and

Not following the rules of distancing. Deaths and cases keep going up, which is not surprising. Hope and keeping calm are the keys to this problem.

Day: 4/24/2020

I woke up early to do homework. I saw that nearly 60 new coronavirus cases confirmed on cruise ship in Japan media. I also saw that Minnesota has 3,185 cases and 221 deaths that's way more than ~~last week~~. The United ^{States} now has 924,510 cases and 52,296 deaths with a recovery of 100,795 patients. The global cases are 2,790,986 and 195,920 deaths. I am just surprise that the number of cases and death keep increasing. The President of the United States don't even know what to do. He keep saying dumb things that won't work to cure such as injecting alcohol or using cleaning chemicals to fight the coronavirus. I am just surprise with his responses.

Link: <https://www.worldometers.info/coronavirus/coronavirus-cases/#total>

https://www.worldometers.info/coronavirus/coronavirus-cases/#total

Day: 4/25/2020

I decided to go for a walk with my family. We felt relaxed and calm. I was happy to spend time with my family outside. I didn't feel bored at all, but that was all I did, besides being at home doing homework.

Day: 4/26/2020

-
- I woke late since I was doing homework at night. I keep seeing new companies ~~having~~ ~~worriers~~ that have Coronaviruses.
- ★ The LAPD now has 79 employees who tested positive for Coronaviruses. On the other hand, we have places where they extend their closures such as Lakewood extended the closures through May 31. I just don't even know what to think about. I am just hoping it can end soon.